

Network Diagram

The critical path for the diagram is the path starting with the View post backend. To keep the sprint on schedule, we split the group to work on each of the 4 branches of the diagram. This made the most sense since none of the branches interacted with each other.