

Burndown Chart

Sprint burndown

16 points done, 0 points to go

In order to keep the sprint on schedule, we stayed in constant communication with each other and set a goal to complete the user stories in the first week of the sprint. This afforded us additional time to fix any problems for the final product.